

Virginia Nutrient Management Planners
67th Annual Meeting of the Soil Science Society of North Carolina
April 29-30, 2024

To receive credits for attending any of these sessions, check the session(s) you attended, complete the information and return it with a copy of your I.D. badge to Pamela Capps via email at pamela.capps@dcr.virginia.gov by Friday, May 31, 2024.

Presentation	Credits/ Speaker
---------------------	-------------------------

Monday, April 29, 2024

Session 1

- | | |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------|
| <input type="checkbox"/> A little less mud on the tires: How soil properties and prevention methods impact track-out. | 0.5 Credit/ Lenko |
| <input type="checkbox"/> Soil Science in VA | 0.5 Credit/ Richardson |

Session 2

- | | |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------|
| <input type="checkbox"/> Updating Zinc Toxicity Threshold in Peanuts | 0.5 Credit/ Kulesza |
| <input type="checkbox"/> Long-Term Tillage Impacts on Soil Health and Soil Organic Matter | 0.5 Credit/ Ozlu |
| <input type="checkbox"/> Influence of Tillage, Crop Sequence, and Fluopyram on Nematode Population in Soil and Peanut Yield. | 0.5 Credit/ Foote |

I wish to receive Va. Nut. Mgt. continuing education credits for sessions I have attended at the 67th Annual Soil Science Society of North Carolina.

Name: _____

Address: _____

VA. Nut. Mgt. Certification No. _____

Sign Here: _____